SV-So.Bay Sewer Line Proposed by November

SAN DIEGO (CNS) — A promise of a "crash" program to construct a $1.5 million sewer trunkline from Spring Valley to the South Bay by November — if financing can be arranged — Thursday won for the county a delay in court action threatened by the State Regional Water Pollution Control Board.

Jean L. Vincenz, county public works director and sanitary engineer, outlined his plan to get the sewer line constructed, through multiple contracts, by next November, and the state board voted to hold in abeyance legal action against the couity intended to force a halt to all sewer connections to the Spring Valley Sanitation District.

It gave Vincenz until Feb. 16 to report whether the county had approved his plan and financing had been arranged.

Vincenz told the water pollution control group he would present his proposal to the County Board of Supervisors, whose members are also directors of the sanitation district, within 10 days.

Property owners in the Sweetwater Valley, as well as those in the Spring Valley area, have been up in arms over the [illegible] flow of effluent from the plant and its inability to meet the needs of the growing area.

Oxidation Ponds Termed Impossible

Actually, Vincenz' new proposal is the outgrowth of failure of a six-point program approved by the Supervisors on Jan. 3 which called for the construction of a series of oxidation ponds in Sweetwater Valley to be used until a Spring Valley trunkline could be connected with the San Diego Metropolitan Sewer System due to be completed early in 1963.

Vincenz told the pollution board Thursday, as he told the Supervisors last Tuesday, that further investigations had shown it would be impossible to construct the oxidation ponds because the area was interlaced with pipelines of the California Water and Telephone Co. and that an important water supply well was located in the area.

He said he will recommend within 10 days to the Supervisors a crash program in an endeavor to get a sewer trunkline to the bay and will call for the employment of engineering firms to assist, and probably award three separate contracts to expedite the work.

"It appears," Vincenz said, on the basis of our talks with the representatives of financial firms, that the financing can be worked out."

SV To Bear Full Cost

Vincenz said it is proposed that Spring Valley bear the entire cost of constructing the sewer line, with the Bonita area Chula Vista and National City paying their share when they hook into it.

Vincenz answered Jim Bear, member of the pollution board, that the proposed trunkline could be expected to take care of the anticipated growth of Spring Valley, Bonita, Chula Vista and National City by serving the entire area by gravity flow.

Gilbert Ray of Spring Valley, a member of the County Planning Commission who said he was in the audience as an observer, declared he was opposed to a crash program or any temporary measures which would "waste money."

"I am heartily in favor of a trunkline to the metropolitan system, he said.

"But Spring Valley never had it so clean as it has it now. I remember when there were 2,000 hogs in Spring Valley and water ran right through their pens and down to Bonita."

FLAMING INFERNO — Flames shoot high into the sky Friday night as Lemon Grove's old packing shed burns to the ground. Lemon packing was once the town's major industry until homes and business houses replaced the citrus orchards from which the community got its name.

Property damage reached an unofficial record $270,000 but fire was contained without it spreading to other nearby buildings.

TOWERING FLAMES DEVOUR WAREHOUSE

A towering blaze, with flames shooting higher than 100 feet into the night sky, destroyed more than $270,000 worth of property Friday night in Lemon Grove.

Listed as a complete loss is the community's largest building, a 70-year-old landmark, the former packing house shed at Imperial avenue, Costa Bella street, North avenue and the S.D. Arizona and Eastern Railway.

The blaze, which was accented by exploding tires and gasoline tanks of several autos stored in the building, was still smoldering five days later. The building was owned by W. O. Kobusch, a San Diego furniture store owner who used part of the building as a warehouse.

The building collapsed a little more than an hour after the alarm was turned in at 7:10 p.m. Friday night. Fire units from La Mesa, Spring Valley, Carlsbad and Chollas Heights aided the Lemon Grove fire department in bringing the blaze under control about 10 p.m., less than three hours after the alarm.

Estimated 10,000 Persons at Blaze

Units from the San Diego City fire department were turned back when they were unable to negotiate the unprecedented traffic attracked by the tall, billowing flames.

A crowd estimated at 10,000 persons hampered fire service and sheriff's men. Threats of arrest were broadcast over police car speakers in an attempt to control the crowd.

The blaze started at the northeast end of the building, possibly from one of the autos stored in that part of the building. It spread quickly along the roof to other parts of the building. Kobusch, who also operates the Kobusch Van and Storage Co. from that location, lost most of his records together with the warehouse contents.

sheriff's men from Winterhaven that the building was on fire. He said Stonecifer also removed four trucks, a lifting truck and a passenger car from the building. All of the inventory was lost except about $1,000 worth of shingles and plasterboard outside the building.

Seven Trucks Lost By Contos

The Contos firm suffered complete loss including seven trucks stored in the south end of the building.

Kobusch said he hoped to start rebuilding a new, modern warehouse in the same place. He said that all of the moving equipment had been saved by employes who hurried to the scene. The firm is being operated from 3611 Costa Bella where he owned a sport boat business for the past two years.

A new warehouse, just completed by Kobusch west of the old one, was spared with only broken windows and blistered paint. So was the Prevost packing house and Mod-Mar Floor Co. occupying buildings east of the blaze.

Lemon Grove Fire Chief Hensley said that there was ample water to fight the blaze and sufficient units and men to do the job but "nothing could have saved the old, dry building." His men set up spray controls to prevent adjacent buildings from burning.

Three cafes and a Salvation Army truck kept a coffee and sandwich line going to as many as 70 firemen who fought the smoldering embers for more than 24 hours.

Food Supplied Firemen

Sam Pernicano was first to arrive with sandwiches from his Italian restaurant. Ted Fetters of Pal's cafe supplied coffee and food until his larder ran bare. Ralph Heim, operator of the Spinn Inn, directly across the street from the fire, also supplied coffee and food. He said the fire was so hot and the crowd so great that when bystanders pressed against his front windows they burned their arms. He said his cafe did "capacity" business Friday night but "died" Saturday as firemen closed Imperial for fire hoses.

John Ott, L.G. fire department hoseman, estimated 55,000 square feet of floor space burning. This included basement area. Noah Tubbs, L.G. fire department engineer fell and hurt his back and is undergoing a medical examination and treatment this week.

Nearly all the men suffered small cuts, burns and bruises, Chief Hensley said.

Hensley listed other districts which sent assistance during the blaze and after. Spring Valley sent 26 men, 13 at a time. La Mesa supplied seven men and El Cajon sent 14. Fire Chiefs Jim Jones of Bonita, Wayne Culver of Lincoln Acres and Roy Lyles of La Mesa worked during the fire. Carlsbad sent a light plant and a load of hose was sent by Chollas Heights.

Assistant Chief Fred Dixon warned curiosity seekers to stay clear of the building due to a fire wall that might tumble down.

Packing House Built In 1891

The Lemon Grove packing shed was built about 70 years ago according to local historians. Marion Grant, librarian for the Union Title Insurance Company said her records start in 1910 when "hundreds of carloads of citrus" were shipped each year by the California Citrus Association. The firm name was later changed to the Lemon Grove Citrus Association, and finally, in 1936, it became the Lemon Grove Fruit Growers Association.

In the early 30's, she said, there were mostly five to ten acre citrus groves here, owned and cultivated by retired people. Records also indicate that more 250 carloads of local citrus fruit under the name of Sunkist, was shipped from here annually up to 1936.

It ceased operations as a packing plant in 1936.

Sharing the warehouse was the L. R. Folda Company, building supply firm, and Contos Insulation Co. a building insulation firm, both at the south end of the building. McMahan Furniture store had "considerable" new furniture warehoused there according to Les Cooper, Lemon Grove store manager. It was also lost.

Folda Firm's Loss Estimated at $95,000

Larry Folda, who is also president of the Lemon Grove chamber of commerce, said his firm's loss would be about $95,000 but that he was fully covered by insurance. He also had business interruption insurance but he was back in business Monday with the help of three supply yards giving him complete access to their inventory.

It is not known whether the Contos firm was insured. Kobusch said he had insurance but "had not looked at it for a long time" and wasn't sure what his coverage is. "I hope it is what I think it is," he said.

Maurice Kahan, manager of Popular Liquor and Delicatessen saw the flames as they first cracked through the roof as he was en route home from work. He drove to the fire station just as the Lemon Grove equipment started to roll.

Larry Folda said that "Stoney" Stonecifer, of 8638 Eileen lane, Spring Valley, a driver for his firm, was first on the scene. He was eating in a cafe across the street. He broke open the front door and removed the firm's records with the help of Joanne Laliotis, Folda's daughter, who had responded to a telephone call. Folda said he was on the second day of a fishing trip at Imperial Dam near Yuma when he was notified at 8:30 p.m. by

by MAX GOODWIN

Gremlins have been with us until the Inauguration. Maybe we'll have more errors, maybe less, now that we have JFK firmly ensconced in the White House.

Last week, for example, we were giving a complimentary pat on the back to directors of those water agencies who gave up the privilege of collecting $20 a meeting to which they are entitled. The savings on the five-man boards amounts to $1,200 a year, but our story came out as $2,000 a year savings.

This incited a couple of readers (they may have been water directors for all we know) to telephone their opinion of our arithmetic.

This is our means of recanting. The $2,000 savings actually should have read $1,200 annual savings. The idea of members giving up the board fee of $20 to set an example for all board members still remains in the category of "splendid."

A Democratic gremlin attacked a paragraph we ran when Bobby Kennedy received his appointment by his brother President John. We said: "Letters we expect but haven't received -

Dear Sir:

John F. Kennedy will prove to be history's outstanding president. I, and my family are pleased to have had the opportunity to vote for him.

(Signed) Bobby"

The make-up editor left the last line off, reducing the humor to nil. It also made us, the editor of this column, the sayer of material.

Being a registered Republican it made the statement less than valid. But in view of the events from November 8th the idea in the simulated letter has taken some roots.

We can't deny he's still doing a pretty good job after six days in office.

Some of our readers gave us a pat on the shoulder for complaining of the myriad questions they've woven into the small space of the little auto registration forms.

More than one reader complained about the whole system by which the government, at all levels, requires so much paper work. Lots of complaints but no objective proof that it could be eliminated.

Like manna from heaven then came the story, currently in TIME MAGAZINE, relating the experience of Sir Simon Marks, owner of a chain of 237 stores in England, employing 28,000 persons, doing $420 millions in annual sales.

He started a vendetta against paper work, according to TIME, in 1957 when he observed two salesgirls laboriously filling out an inventory card. It was so complicated that Sir Simon couldn't even fill it out. He knocked off that form and much more of the record keeping procedures similar to those for which we Americans are being put by our growing list of government agencies.

He junked 120 tons of various forms, saved $14 million, cut prices 5 per cent with the savings, increased sales 18 per cent because it freed salespeople to sell instead for form-filling.

Getting right down to basics, we are urging less multi-questioned forms from government. If the agency complains that the questionaires are vital to its existence, let's question the need for the agency.

We might not get rid of many agencies but we'll bet some of the forms will be shortened.

L.G. Business Zoning Conformity Tried by Planners

SAN DIEGO (CNS) — The county planning department hopes to make zoning lines in downtown Lemon Grove conform to property lines.

A proposal, initiated by the department, to reclassify a narrow strip along an east-west centerline of blocks bounded by Broadway on the north and Pacific avenue on the south from R-3 and C to C-2 zoning will be up for hearing next Friday before the County Planning Commission.

The strip affected lies between Buena Vista on the east and Citrus street on the west.

The planning department pointed out that property surrounding the strip already is doned C-2, which allows full business use including wholesale warehouses and restricted light manufacturing. The present R-3 and C zoning allows multiple dwellings, professional offices and retail businesses.

Pets to Parade In Grove For Fame, Fun and Prizes

A gala pet parade, to which all the youngsters of Lemon Grove and Spring Valley and nearby areas are invited to participate, will be held Saturday, February 11, the week before Valentines Day. The parade will have a musical background of several area school bands.

Youngsters may bring any pet they wish, except horses, and scores of prizes will be given for the best dressed, the funniest, the smallest, the biggest, the prettiest, the ugliest pet and for other categories of competition. Prizes will also go to the most interesting team of pet and master. The event is sponsored by the merchants division of the L.G. Chamber of Commerce. Skip Degenhart is president of the organization.

The parade will start at 11 a.m. at Pacific and Olive streets and will disperse at the playground of the Lemon Grove junior high school. The route is to be announced next week.

The L.G. Lions club will be in charge of the judging according to Jerry Mather, operator of the L.G. Department Store who is also parade chairman.

Mather said all merchants would have the opportunity to participate. Participation information can be gotten from him either by telephone or in person, he said. A final meeting at which all details will be announced will be held Wednesday morning at 10 a.m. at the new office of teh chamber of commerce at 3448 Main street.

Other projects to be undertaken by the group to attract more attention to the downtown Lemon Grove business section are a custom car show in March and an Easter Parade and hunt in one of the following months.

Another project to be started simultaneously as soon as details can be worked out is the setting up of a lemon tree in a redwood box in front of as many business locations as possible. "We intend you give the proper kind of image to area shoppers so that they will want to continue coming here," explained Degenhart.

BURGLARY NETS $220 IN GOODS

A burglary of goods valued at $220 was committed at the Lemon Grove Radio and Appliance shop, 7973 Broadway, Lemon Grove, between 7:15 p.m. Jan. 19 and 8:45 a.m. Jan. 20, according to report to the Sheriff's Department rfom Edward P. Rue, the owner.

Rue told Deputy Sheriff B. D. DePriest that the store was entered because of pressure against the rear door forcing the woodwork from the lock, and leaving the tongue still in the lock.

Five transistor radios, a radio carrying case, and transistor batteries for various types of radios were taken.

About $50 in bills and silver was in plain sight but the burglars did not take it.

SV Local Government Group Begins Study on Four Plans

The Spring Valley Local Government committee recently appointed by the Spring Valley Chamber of Commerce, met Friday at the office of Dr. Hayles Trent, D.C., and a steering committee with Dr. Trent as chairman and initiated plans to make a thorough study of various forms of local government for the Spring Valley area.

A plan to establish a boundary map for Spring Valley (based on the one in the 1958 survey) was discussed. The original map included the Spring Valley portion of the La Mesa-Spring Valley School district, the Spring Valley Sanitation district, and a part of tse Spring Valley Local Fire district.

It was agreed upon that a legal description of the area should be compiled and that the 1958 survey should be brought up to date because of the growth and the increased assessed valuation of the area.

Attorney James Bear, a member of the committee said that at the next meeting he will bring information as to costs of notices and legal services.

It was determined that the problems which will face the steering committee will be zoning, police protection and future "nibbling" by San Diego.

Four plans for the Spring Valley area were discussed, which are to be presented to the home owners of the Spring Valley area: 1) annexation to a neighboring city; 2) incorporate as the City of Spring Valley; 3) remain status quo (as we are under the county. (as we are) under the county.

The committee is arranging for a speaker to more fully enlighten the group on the "Lakewood" plan, and its effect.

Nine members of the committee said they will telephone 20 persons in the Spring Valley area to ask their opinion the four above mentioned.

The report on the poll will be given at the next committee meeting Friday of this week at 7:30 p.m. at Spring Valley Fire Station 1, on Troy st. Any home owner in the area interested in the future of Spring Valley is invited to attend the steering committee's meetings.

Truck Driver Pleads Guilty In Morals Case

Richard Blalock, a 27-year-old truck driver who was charged with distributing obscene literature to little girls last week, pleaded guilty to the charge at his arraignment in El Cajon Municipal Court this week, and his trial was set for Feb. 8 at 9 a.m. in Superior Court of San Diego County.

A probation report is pending in his case.

Blalock was arrested last week by Deputy Sheriff W. E. Larson after Larson had established a stakeout near the Grove Theater three little girls reported that obscene literature had been thrown to them from a passing truck.

The description of the driver of the truck given to the deputies by the girls enabled them to recognize Blalock and apprehend him.

GOD'S MINUTE

"LIGHT BEARERS"

Jesus said that we are to be "lights in the world." A person who is filled with darkness (sin) is not fulfilling his God-intended purpose. God gave you life in order that His light might fill you and shine forth from you to guide others into a righteous and wholesome life. How is your light?

LMSV Associate Superintendent Traces History Of School District Before Advisory Council

The Citizen's Advisory Council of the La Mesa-Spring Valley School district held the second in a series of "coffees" last week at the home of Mrs. Robert Graham, Spring Valley.

Purpose of the "coffees" is to gather more information on the educational problems and answers in the district, and to pass on the information to parents of school children.

Dr. M. Ted Dixon, associate superintendent of the district was guest speaker. He was assisted by Bill Schell, principal of Bancroft Elementary school.

Dr. Dixon said that there is a move in Sacramento (by Assemblyman Hegland) to have the California Education Code overhauled, to be condensed and eliminate all the "deadwood" in the code. He said the LM-SV School district is sixth in the state in its class (kindergarten through eighth grade.

He said that most of the school districts of the nation are small. One educator, Dr. Dixon pointed out, said that a school district should be no larger than the ability of its superintendent, and that no school should be larger than the ability of its principal. A principal, the educator was reported as saying, should know more about his teachers than just their names and where they live.

Regarding the growth of the local district, Dr. Dixon said that in 1946 there were 2,045 students enrolled and that the figure for Jan. 6, 1961 is 11,907.

The district, he said is still growing. There has been an increase of 100 pupils each month for the past 24 months. For the last five years there has been an increase of 50 per cent.

Dr. Dixon said that regardless of the ever increasing local population that his department has a system for keeping abreast of the situation. He said that recently there were 2,400 new homes under construction in the district's 24 square miles.

There are 16 schools in the district now operating full time Dr. Dixon pointed out, and with the new Highland Ave. elementary school being ready soon, it will ease the pressure on Rancho, Casa de Oro, Bancroft and possibly Spring Valley Elementary.

The LM-SV School district now employes 692 persons (all departments) with an enrollment of 11,907 students. School sites for elementary schools are about 10 acres (net), and for the junior high schools, 25 acres. Some portables have been built to take care of the overflow at some of the schools, and these may be moved with little effort, when and if necessary, Dr. Dixon said.

Nearly all the schools that have been built in the La Mesa-Spring Valley School district, Dr. Diron said, have been constructed at a cost several thousands of dollars below the State Aid estimation. One third of the cost of the schools construction is from local taxes, and the other two-thirds from State Aid. Dr. Dixon gave Superintendent Glenn Murdock credit for fighting to get a fixed local school tax so that taxes would not "pyramid."

A few other questions and answers regarding the District, were:

1) What grade levels are included in this District? Ans—Kindergarten through 8th.

2. What is the salary of school board members? Ans—None.

3) What is the total budget approved for this school district for the 1960-61 school year? Ans—5,301,809.

4) How many specific subjects are required by law to be taught in California public schools? Ans—16.

5) Science instruction in the La Mesa-Spring Valley School district begins at what grade? Ans—Kindergarten.

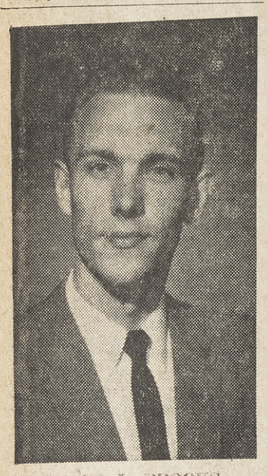

6) The District Office (Ed Center) is in operation how many months of the year? Ans—12.

7) The total tax rate for each $100 of assessed valuation for the LM-SV School district this year is $2.42.

8) The board of education meets regularly (except holidays) on the second and fourth Mondays.

9) How many textbooks does the State of California supply for each 5th grader's use in this district? Ans—27.

The Citizen's Advisory Council has served local schools for the past ten years.

Attacks on Land Control Ordinance Ignored by Planners

SAN DIEGO (CNS)—Attacks on the county's new land division controls ordinance—which opponents are seeking to block by a referendum—were shrugged off Friday by the County Planning Commission.

But the commission at the same time refused the request of Dr. Willis H. Miller, county planning director, for approval of a draft leter he had written challenging what he termed "serious misstatements of fact" being circulated by a group bearing petitions asking for the referendum to repeal the ordinance.

"If the statements being attributed to the opponents of the land division controls ordinance were true, I would be the first to sign one of the petitions for its repeal," Miller told the commission.

The petitions for a referendum are being circulated throughout the county under the sponsorship of the "Citizens Assn. for Better Government" a group which charges that the ordinance "will give one man, the director of planning, absolute and complete control over the division sale and purchase of all privately owned lands in the county of San Diego."

The County Board of Supervisors last Tuesday ordered the county counsel's office to determine whether the organization has until March 6 to file the repeal petitions, or whether the law has already taken effect.

SPEED LIMIT UPPED ON PART OF '94'

A revision of the prima facie speed limits from 25 miles per hours to 35 miles has been made along a portion of "F" and "G" streets, State Sign Route 94, from just west of 15th street to east of 24th st.

An announcement to this effect was made by Jacob Dekema, California Division of Highways district engineer, who said that the change was made as a result of an engineering and traffic survey to determine limits that are reasonable and safe and will facilitate the orderly movement of traffic.
